

10/2019: Nidec Graessner is now the Central European Operations Center for High Precision Technologies of Nidec-Shimpo

Starting October 1st 2019, Nidec Graessner takes over the European high-precision gearbox business of Nidec-Shimpo

As part of Nidec-Shimpo's continuous efforts to streamline its operations, it has successfully completed the transition to move its European high precision gearbox business to Nidec Graessner GmbH & Co. KG, located in Dettenhausen, Germany. This business was previously managed by Nidec-Shimpo America Corporation based in Illinois, U.S.

This strategic decision places Nidec-Shimpo in a much better position to compete and provide better gear solutions and services within the European region.

More importantly, the central location of Nidec Graessner in Europe will allow the group to provide even better local support to partners and customers in terms of inventory, application engineering, services and sales support activities to further accelerate the growth of our business together.

As a result of this transition, Nidec Graessner will be in-charge of all direct communication and transactional activities, including purchase orders within the European region.

We would like to ensure that this transition will be as seamless as possible to everyone concerned. Please do not hesitate to reach out to our team, should you have any questions.
